

"STICKY FINGERS"

IPMS HORNCHURCH - NEWSLETTER

Dear Members

The evenings now seem to be getting lighter, and the days are milder. So let that be a warning to you, as it won't be long before you have to dig deep into the shed and retrieve that choked up mower, or those rock hard paint brushes because someone, not a million miles away has some ideas about the bedroom or lounge !

Also this time of year is when the toy fairs are on and the industry announces the new releases for the year (or are they the old ones with different decals ?), another means by which they seek to unload you of your hard earned money. Hasegawa have announced a 1/72nd Douglas Skywarrior, which plugs an important part of the history of US Naval aircraft. What with that plus mowers to buy, paintbrushes to replace, how can anyone make ends meet ?

Hope you enjoyed the club's bash at the Headley Arms, a suggestion was made during the night of a Summer get together in the form of a barbecue at someone's house, weather permitting ! The Bring & Buy was not very successful last month, maybe this has had it's day. You can decide at the AGM if you want to keep it.

Below are the first shows we have been invited to, the Barnet Show is booked, but the Expo South East is not so a decision has to be made tonight.

IPMS Barnet Show, Sunday 27th April. Doors open 10:00am maps and passes to follow. GEC Sports Centre, A1, next to Elstree Moat House, Borehamwood.

Expo South East, Saturday and Sunday 19th & 20th April. Nothing booked yet. Crofton Leisure Centre, Crofton Park, SE London.

Lastly the best of luck to everyone entering the competitions "Waterborne aircraft" and "Ships".

Happy Modelling (Before the shed beckons !)
